45.04.01 - Philology
MA Program: World Literature: Practice of Working on a Text (with English-language modules)
Duration: 2.5 years, extramural
Degree: Master
Number of state-funded places in 2020-2021 academic year: 4
Tuition fee in 2019-2020 academic year: RUB 57,000

Objectives:
The program introduces students to the advanced study of Philology and Cross-Cultural Communication and acquaints them with modern methods of analyzing, evaluating and abstracting scholarly texts. The graduates of the program will also be able to plan and conduct teaching sessions in philological subjects in higher educational establishments and translate texts of different types, including literary ones.

Subjects:
• Philology and Its Place in the Modern Liberal-Arts Education
• IT
• Business English
• Literary Theory
• Evolution of Russian and Foreign Aesthetic Concepts
• Literary Movements and Periods
• Theory and Practice of Cross-Cultural Communication
• Literary Process at the Turn of the 21st Century
• Modern Literary Criticism
• Technologies of Teaching World Literature
• Modern literary awards and their laureates
• Practical Conversation Course in English
• The Cultural Aspect of the Russian Language
• Current Issues of Teaching Russian as a Foreign Language
• Modern Literature and Film
• Modern Literature and Culture of the US
• Literary Text in the History of Russian and Foreign Literature
• Academic Writing

Career opportunities:
•Educational establishments;
• Arts administration;
• Publishing and journalism.

Entrance exam:

Foreign literature (interview)